

MIDTHERM ENGINEERING QUALITY STATEMENT

At Midtherm Engineering Limited we believe that the quality of the products that we supply and the service given comes first.

It is the Company's policy to supply and install a range of products consistent with specifications, standards and operational requirements, providing a design and installation service that either meets or exceeds customer expectations. The Company aims to guide customers to ensure good practice is achieved, and endeavour to operate and advise in line with relevant and up to date regulations and standards.

To show the Company's commitment to quality Midtherm Engineering is following the standard set by its associated Company, Midtherm Flue Systems Limited, which has ISO 9001 certification. Together the two Companies are compiling a quality policy and set of procedures for Midtherm Engineering's activities.
